It is important that you know what kind of cookies the Website uses and for what purposes. In addition, it is important to know which cookies are necessary for the operation of the Website and which ones can only be used with your explicit consent, which can be revoked at any time. This will help protect your personal data while ensuring a user-friendly browsing experience. Below you can read what cookies are, which cookies the Website uses and how you can disable their use.

What are Cookies

Cookies are small text files that a website stores on your computer, tablet or mobile device when you visit it. The Website uses cookies to manage login sessions and provide personalised content that reflects your needs and interests. In this way, the Website remembers your actions and preferences for a period of time, and so you do not need to re-enter those preferences each time you visit unless you wish to do so.

The Website cannot verify your personal identity through cookies and does not maintain any records or databases of your personal data. All cookies, except those necessary for the operation of the Website, are stored on your device only if you give your explicit consent. You may withdraw or modify your consent regarding cookies at any time.

Cookies on the Website and how to manage them

The company on its Website uses temporary cookies (session cookies), which remain in the cookies file of your device's browser only during your visit and are deleted when you close the browser. In particular, the Website may make use of the following:

- Necessary cookies

Necessary cookies help to make a website usable by allowing basic functions such as navigation and access to secure areas of the website. Necessary cookies do not recognize your individual identity. Without them, the effective functioning of the website cannot be ensured and therefore they are considered absolutely essential. You cannot opt out of necessary cookies because the Website cannot function properly without them.

- Preference Cookies

Preference cookies allow a website to remember information that changes the way the website behaves or looks, such as your preferred language or the region you are in.

- Statistical Cookies

Statistical cookies help website owners understand how visitors interact with pages by collecting and reporting information anonymously.

- Marketing

Marketing cookies are used to track visitors to websites. The intent is to display ads that are relevant and attractive to users and therefore more valuable to third-party publishers and advertisers.
